COUNCIL ASKS STRICT CURFEW ON TEENAGERS

Deploing the continuous trouble caused by misbehaving juveniles at Westlake Bowl, the council Tuesday night called for a get-tough-policy in enforcing the city's curfew of 10 p.m. on teenagers.

Councilman Bob St. Clair prompted the action, citing that the Bowl problem was getting worse and that "it's time we started enforcing the curfew as set aside by our ordinance."

Fellow councilmen agreed with St. Clair that the rowdy-ism and many fights among teenagers at the Bowl were getting out of hand. Just how bad the problem is will be reported to the council next week by Chief of Police Roland Petrochi.

St. Clair said the juvenile fusses at the Bowl have taken many DC policemen off their regular evening beats to handle the disturbance calls. He noted that Bowl owner John Swanson had attempted to alleviate the problem by using special officers (supplied by the Doelger firm) and by posting signs indicating that youngsters 18 and younger should not be in the Bowl after curfew.

City Attorney Paul Hupf, reminded that the city ordinance on loitering set a curfew of 10 p.m. for youths 18 and under, while the county curfew ordinance is 11 p.m. Hupf said this "loitering" interpretation is a rather vague issue but still "a potent weapon." He suggested the city put more teeth into its curfew ordinance.

Mayor Michael DeBernardi said one of the biggest problems in enforcing curfew was the widespread difference of opinion as to whether it is legal. Hupf answered that it depended on the strength the council applies to the ordinance.

DeBernardi and Councilman Joseph Verducci said Petrochi and county authorities have recommended a much stricter enforcement of the curfew policy in view of mounting delinquency.

Verducci said much of the trouble here was caused by teenagers from outside Daly City who frequent Swanson's and often just hang around looking for mischief.

State Okays School-Mission Signals, Car Tracks Removal, Center Islands

DEMANDS GET RESULTS

City Seeks Prompt Allocations; Jeff High Crossing Next Request

City Manager George Watts informed the council Tuesday night that the State Division of Highways has approved traffic signals for the treacherous School and Mission street crossing and also the removal of the old streetcar tracks, and the installation of center traffic islands on Mission from Theta to Market street.

The council followed this welcome news with a resolution asking the state to expedite the authorization of its share of the funds needed for these developments.

Watts said he thought that the removal of the streetcar tracks and resurfacing job could be completed within a year if all goes well at state level.

State officials in San Francisco told Watts that they couldn't give a definite date when the School-Mission signals will be installed, but they have submitted this recommendation to headquarters in Sacramento.

Tuesday's announcement of state willingness to approve these projects goes along with the rapid progress being made by the city to eliminate the general hazardous status of Mission street from the top-of-the-hill to the Colma line. Already underway is work on signals at Knowles and Hillside on Mission and harmonization of traffic at Hillcrest and Wellington.

Watts pointed out that the removal of the streetcar tracks will be paid by gas tax funds, with the city of San Francisco paying its pro rata share since it owns the old tracks. The city will pay one-third the cost of the School-Mission signals and the state the balance from gas tax funds.

The council Tuesday said installation of the center islands on Mission from Theta to Market would in no way hurt Mission street merchants. With the exception of the Price street junction at Mission, there will be breaks in the traffic islands at all the other streets entering Mission—thus present traffic patterns will not be affected.

Watts also said the state might be interested in installing "flasher" type signals in front of Jefferson High School. School Supt. Edward Morgan believes that since the state has turned down traffic signals for the corner of Citrus and Mission (north of Jeff), it might be best to eliminate the hazardous crosswalk in front of the school and put flasher signals at the corner of Citrus. Students thus would have to cross Mission at Citrus or south at West Moltke.

Highways officials reminded Watts at their recent meeting that the state began a project to remove the street car tracks and install the center islands back in 1953, but that the council at that time did not follow through.

Cooper Trustee Hopeful

James M. Cooper, 46, of 116 Avalon drive, Sharp Park, is the first to file papers as a candidate for Jefferson High School District board of trustees in the May 19 election.

Deadline for all candidates to file is Friday, April 17, at the county school superintendent's office. One berth on the high school board will be open.

Trustee Donald Miller, another Pacifican, from Vallejo, has resigned from the board and will not be a candidate for re-election.

Drainage Holds Up State Park Plans At Thornton Beach

Two Daly City residents plan for making the beach accessible as a state park. The state has offered to provide an access road to the beach and has asked the city to correct the drainage and erosion problems in the same area which are tied to the project.

The drainage pipes above the highway have been loosened by frequent slides and erosion is acute, Councilman Francis Pacelli termed this matter "extremely serious, as it could affect the safety of the homeowners above the highway in the Palisades."

In view of this public safety factor and the possibility the road might be closed due to this erosion, Pacelli and Bob St. Clair Tuesday night asked the public works department for a cost report on correcting the drainage problem.

This cost to the city might be prohibitive, an opinion expressed by City Manager George Watts, but the state claims the drainage problem is a must in the project. The Doelger Company installed the drainage pipes and these have deteriorated due to slides and haven't been repaired.

CREWS are busy at the Hillcrest drive crossing on Mission street in the first phases of a $24,000 job of installing traffic signals at Knowles and Hillside, relocating the lights and crosswalk at Hillcrest and Mission, and harmonizing all these signals for a safer and smoother flow of traffic. State engineers urged the public to pay special attention to the temporary signs which show how traffic should be routed during the changeover. The signals should be operative by mid-April.

New Classrooms Being Drafted For Westmoor

Architect Mario Ciampi and district trustees Tuesday night went over his proposals for the nine temporary classrooms to be built this summer in Westmoor High School.

The additions, necessary to handle heavy enrollment before the two Pacifica high schools become realities, would include six classrooms in the academic building and three in the physical education section.

Ciampi suggests the use of natural wood, which could easily be disassembled once the Coast schools are ready. Trustee Raymond Whitney said these unpainted wooden structures would make the classrooms look "too temporary" (Continued on Page 2)

CITY'S 50TH BIRTHDAY

'Golden Jubilee' Set Here

Plans are taking shape for Daly City's "Golden Jubilee" celebration, set for March of 1961 to pay tribute to this community's 50th birthday.

Spearheading the community-wide effort is the Chamber of Commerce, backed by the city council, in setting the stage for a week-long extravaganza featuring participation of all Daly City social and civic clubs and groups.

The chamber's Jubilee committee consists of Ted Harris, Ray Logan, Lou Pisani, H. H. Smith Jr., and Edward Morgan. These gentlemen have recruited pioneer resident Arthur Bodien, former city councilman and a resident of Daly City since 1907, to help coordinate anniversary plans.

Bodien, who served Daly City for 20 years as director of public works and then spent 12 years on the city council, has embarked on his task with natural enthusiasm. He knows more about Daly City history than just about any person alive.

Bodien, former fire chief here and also a member of the county Grand Jury, served on the county planning commission for 14 years. Last week he spoke at the Westlake YWCA meeting and related county history in general and Daly City progress in particular.

Mayor Michael DeBernardi, who soon will appoint 10 citizens to serve on the Jubilee committee, also spoke to the YWCA ladies last week. He followed Bodien's remarks with comments on Daly City's future.

"We feel every organization in town should get behind this celebration 100 per cent," Bodien declared. "All clubs and groups should appoint a representative to serve on the planning committee, and I would like these people to contact me as soon as possible at my home, 28 Rice street, PL 5-1644."

Bodien said the central committee will call a meeting within the next three weeks to welcome representatives of all city groups and clubs which would like to help plan the Jubilee. He added that the chamber (Continued on Page 2)

GOAL IS $5000

PAL Directors Gear Fund-Raising Drive

Board of directors of the Police Athletic League last week set April 1 as their target date and $5000 as their goal in a concerted fund-raising effort to keep the youth organization financially operative this year.

Spokesman Tom Bocci Jr., former municipal judge, said the board's finance committee will immediately contact prominent Daly City residents for $100 permanent membership and $50 associate membership contributions and also that the group will ask the city council to authorize a "PAL Week" before April 1 for door-to-door solicitations.

Bocci is chairman of the finance committee. Its members include Superior Court Judge Frank Blum, City Auditor Bob Hunter, PAL President John Coleman, Frank DeMartini, Tony Masini and Bud Sherwood.

Next meeting of PAL's directors is scheduled for Tuesday night, March 10, at city hall, 75 Wellington, starting at 8 p.m. Public is encouraged to attend and assist in the PAL fund campaign.

About 20 persons attended last week's board meeting.

City Seeking More Firemen; Exam Date Set

Daly City is looking for new firemen to meet its expanded coverage this year which will come about with the opening of the new fire station in Westlake.

March 5 is the deadline for filing to take exams on March 26 which will start the process for determining a new eligible list of men to be hired in the immediate future. Those who pass the written exam on March 20 will be called back for oral exams and agility tests.

Applicants for firemen must be at least 21 years old and not over 31, minimum height of 5-8 and minimum weight of 150, have normal vision and color perception, possess a chauffeur's license, and be high school graduates or have equivalent education. Salary range is $428 to $495.

Applications may be obtained at the office of City Administrative Assistant Phil Brown, city hall, 75 Wellington avenue, second floor.

10-DAY-OLD BABY FOUND DEAD IN CRIB

A 10-day-old Daly City boy was found dead in his crib Monday morning, apparently the victim of a congenital condition.

Dennis J. Whalen, 27, of 68-D Westlake avenue, said he and his wife discovered the infant's lifeless body about 7:25 a.m. when they woke up. They called the family doctor, who in turn notified police and the coroner's office.

Authorities said the death apparently was from a congenital malady and not from suffocation. The infant, Bernard J. Whalen, appeared to have been okay when he was last fed at 12:15 a.m. Monday, his father said.

Lasswell's handled funeral arrangements.

Casentini, Volunteer Firemen Commended

The council Tuesday night passed resolutions commending the services of recently resigned library commissioner Dan Casentini and 12 firemen who will retire from the volunteer ranks next week.

Chief Elmer Kennedy added three more names to the list of retiring fire volunteers. They were Fred Bertetta, Gus Ford and Tony Gaggero.

PROMINENT in progress of Jefferson Elementary School District are assistant superintendents Dr. Vinton Stratton (left), director of instruction, and Dr. David Shapiro, in charge of business affairs. Trustees have added Stratton's name to the list of 20 candidates for new superintendent. Shapiro's name also was forwarded to the screening committee, but he has withdrawn himself from consideration, saying he is fully satisfied with his present duties. District Supt. H. Z. Weibel ends eight years at the helm this June.

Cooper, former president of Pacific Manor PTA and currently that unit's parliamentarian, is active in the Manor Village Improvement Club and Westmoor High PTA.

A resident of Sharp Park since 1951, Cooper and his wife, Lydia, a cafeteria supervisor in the Laguna Salada schools, have two children, Elizabeth Anne, 13, is a freshman at Westmoor, and James Lee, 12, is a seventh grader in Pacifica.

A native of Corvallis, Oregon, Cooper has been manager of the transportation department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce the past eight years.

He has served on the San Mateo County School District Organization Committee, the San Mateo High School District sub-committee, and on the San Mateo County Advisory Council.

San Francisco Junior Red Cross students sent three school chests overseas last year, each containing enough educational material to keep a classroom of 24 students in supplies for one year.

Chief Gaddis New Recruiter For Navy Here

Kenneth C. Gaddis, a chief aviation machinist's mate and veteran of 18 years' service, has joined the U.S. Navy recruiting staff at 6705 Mission street.

Chief Gaddis, a native of East Chicago, Indiana, now residing in Westlake, will succeed L. L. Holdford, machinist's mate first class, as assistant recruiter. Holdford, who has been in Daly City since 1957, is being transferred to an advanced technical school in San Diego, prior to assignment to the fleet.

Gaddis comes here from the San Francisco recruiting station. He was previously attached to Light Photographic Squadron 61, a carrier-based jet reconnaissance squadron.

Missing DC Girl Is Located At Grandmother's Home

Paulette Gridley, 10-year-old Colma School student, was located at the home of her grandmother in San Francisco Saturday afternoon—ending a two-day hunt by the Daly City police department.

Officers here sent out a missing persons dispatch late Thursday after the girl failed to return home from school. She had told her teacher she was going to see a girl friend. But Paulette never arrived.

Police said the girl was upset over arguments with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Yasco, 277 Second avenue. The girl was turned over to juvenile rehabilitation authorities.

CIVIL DEFENSE

City Employees Await Radiological Course

Daly City's civil defense program moves forward on March 11 with the opening here of a five-week course which will train about 21 city employees how to operate radiological detection equipment.

Robert Gisler, a high school science instructor, will teach the course on successive Wednesday nights from 7 to 10 o'clock at Company 5 fire station on Lake Merced boulevard in Westlake.

Gisler's first class will include eight DC policemen and eight DC firemen, three members of the city water department, three members of the city public works department, plus five firemen from the North Coastside District and three firemen from Montana.

Once these students complete the course as qualified radiological meter operators, they will be certified to instruct others in this key phase of the civil defense training program.

Phil Brown, city administrative assistant, says Daly City's civil defense disaster council is pushing plans for an intense public education program here. Members of this board are available to give talks to all organizations throughout the city. They have films on civil defense procedures and will demonstrate civil defense techniques.

Brown said the city civil defense council last met in December and will meet more often as the program expands. Its membership includes City Manager George Watts, Mayor Michael DeBernardi, Councilmen Ed Dennis, Bob St. Clair, Francis Pacelli and Joseph Verducci, McRobert Stewart, Fred Adams Jr., Emil Bertelli, William Lesher, Joseph Lewkowicz, Jack Kendree, Frank DeMartini, Leon Hurst, Roy Foster, Arthur Latino, and Jack Blank.

Board Accepts Donald Miller's Resignation

Jefferson High District school board Tuesday night "very regretfully" accepted the resignation of trustee Donald Miller of Pacifica.

Miller, 40, announced his resignation last week due to a "conflict of interest" ruling by the district attorney. The latter held that an individual could not serve on both a municipal and school board in the same area.

A resident of Vallejo, Miller will continue to devote his time as city councilman in Pacifica. He also will serve the high school board as an "unofficial" advisor. His replacement will be decided in the May 19 school board election.

Board Chairman Elio Fontana Tuesday appointed trustee Lyal Ingersoll to replace Miller as the board's representative on the 17th District PTA's Pacifica Forum. Miller's other committee duties will be re-delegated at the trustee meeting.

Vista Grande Church Scouts Set Annual Blue-Gold Dinner

Pack and Troop 245 of Vista Grande Christian Church, Daly City, held their annual Blue and Gold dinner last Saturday evening in the Coral Room of War Memorial Community Center.

It was potluck furnished by mothers of Cubs and Scouts. Presiding over the evening was Cubmaster Bill Shelver and Scoutmaster Tom Statter.

Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dave McKee and Reverend and Mrs. J. R. Friedline. The highlight of the evening was a French Can — Can skit in original costume, put on by Nancy Radford's boys of Den Three, followed by a community sing, presentation of awards and graduation ceremony. The closing ceremony of the evening, was performed by Scouts Billy Shelver, Allan McAllister and Herbie Ashton.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

Looking very much more like a glamorous television star than the executive producer of one of the nation's leading educational television programs, an attractive young woman wearing a turquoise feathered hat entered the room. So was our introduction to Dorothy Culbertson, producer of NBC's "Continental Classroom" (KRON-TV, weekdays, 6:30 a.m., also on KQED, 5:30 p.m.). Poised, charming and extremely well-informed on educational programs in general, Miss Culbertson was a most stimulating subject for an interview.

She believes that instructional television subjects on the network level should be limited to those which represent a national emergency or need. She felt it is a sound principle to have local colleges present courses at the local level. In answer to our question on the future of educational TV, she said, "There will unquestionably be a greater use of educational television on all levels."

Referred to as "the world's biggest classroom," Continental Classroom now numbers over 270,000 Americans tuning in on the course, which is about 100 times the number of students in an average class. How vividly this illustrates the potential of teaching by television!

Last week KTVU presented a unique public service program—a panel discussion with guests, three distinguished Russian educators in engineering who were in the Bay Area. Hosted by Dr. Robert C. Miller, Director of the California Academy of Sciences, the panel also included two American educators, and a representative of industry. Discussing such questions as text books, examinations, length of day student spends in school, etc., the program gave a first-hand report of some of Russia's educational methods. Certainly such a program is extremely timely and good public service with the wonders of Sputnik and Lunik so vividly on everyone's mind.

Welcome news for the teenage set! Dick Stewart has been selected as permanent host for the popular "KPIX Dance Party" (Weekdays, 3 p.m.) and begins this week as the program's regular master of ceremonies.

Navy Changes Supply Officer Requirements

A degree in business administration is no longer required for applicants to the Navy's Supply Corps Officer Candidate School program.

It is now possible for men between the ages of 19 and 27 with a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university to designate their desire to be a navy supply corps officer.

Qualified applicants are sent to the Navy's Officer Candidate School, Newport, Rhode Island, for a period of four months indoctrination. Following this intensified training, the supply officer candidate is commissioned an ensign.

The newly commissioned ensign is then sent to Atlanta, Georgia, for six months training at the navy supply school. Upon completion of this schooling, the new supply officer will be assigned to a ship or shore station to act as fiscal and disbursing officer, float supply officer, logistics officer or inventory control officer.

Formerly, applicants for the Supply Corps Officer Candidate program were required to have a degree in business administration or the equivalent of 30 semester hours in economics.

Waivers are being granted for eye requirements for supply corps applicants to 20/400. The active duty obligation for the officer candidate school is three years and four months.

Further information about the program can be obtained by writing the office of Naval Officer Procurement, Federal Office Building, San Francisco, or by contacting Chief Stanley S. Cichocki, Navy Recruiter at 6705 Mission street, Daly City, or by calling PL 6-3740.

POODLE PILFERER PUZZLES POLICE

All parties agreed that a shoplifter here Saturday afternoon was a pretty smooth operator.

Missing about 5:15 p.m. from the Underwater World Pet Shop, 7330 Mission street, was a three-month-old black toy poodle, valued at $75.

Shop owner Mae Love, 97 Royce Way, said she last saw the poodle in the store's stall about 2:30 Saturday. She discovered the little fellow missing about three hours later.

Another pet shop owner in South San Francisco reported the loss of another poodle pup the same day. Police believe the same poodle pilferer was responsible.

state, the city has sole responsibility for maintaining the highway, however.

Watts reminded the council that if Daly City doesn't firm its part in developing Thornton Beach by this July, the $65,000 appropriation would revert to the state parks fund and would be lost to the city.

While suggesting that the state attempt to relocate its proposed access road to Thornton Beach, Watts Tuesday told the council that the cost of correcting the drainage woes might be too high from the city's standpoint. He said the state might be willing to allocate the $65,000 instead for a park and reservoir site in the Crocker Hills east of town.

But Pacelli said he thought it improbable that the state would switch funds earmarked for a certain project.

HELP BATTLE HEART DISEASE

During this February Heart Month which was proclaimed by Mayor DeBernardi for Daly City, it is well for us to think about the good benefits already received from the San Mateo County Heart Association and the prospects for the future.

The primary objective of the association is research, to which may be added professional and public education, and community service — all in the interest of combatting heart disease.

Take research. Dr. Jerome H. Diamond, Pacifica, member of the heart association's board of directors, tells us that "hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure is responsible for 90 per cent of all heart disease. Continuing research into heart surgery, for example, now includes 'open' techniques with selective cooling of the brain and minimal cooling of the body. The heart can be opened widely, even brought to a momentary stop.

With heart disease causing one out of every two deaths, the activities of the San Mateo County Heart Association are personal — they affect every one of us.

The San Mateo County Heart Association is a voluntary health organization. Its programming depends solely upon voluntary public support. This month, almost every family in Daly City received a mailer asking for financial help (no door-to-door solicitation is being made). Accordingly, every family is "really on its own" in assessing benefits received and benefits to come, with no one from the outside advising them one way or the other. The Heart Fund deserves Daly City's urgent support. Let your heart and pocketbook say "yes".

THE MOST WORTHY OF CAUSES

No one needs to be convinced that he should help a crippled child. Our instincts and impulses are the same when we see a youngster who has been robbed of physical freedom or wholeness.

But the human community is now so complex that there are matters which our thoughts, if we have time to have them, touch too fleetingly or too lightly. So while we may not need to be convinced, we do need to be reminded.

If you have been checking your recent mail, you have seen this year's Easter Seals and may have read the letter that came with them. The seals and the letter are reminders — from the San Mateo County Crippled Children and Adults Society — that our help is needed to finance its rehabilitation aims for our physically handicapped neighbors.

The aims are sound and constructive. Everything the society does is done under professional guidance, according to the highest professional standards, to achieve maximum physical independence and ultimate self-support for those whose road is rougher than ours.

So be reminded again — and send that check to Easter Seals.

KIP Workshop News

Richard Fenn of Daly City scored a big hit at the Kip Lettermen show on February 9. The young accordionist's act was so well received that he has been invited to return as a soloist "strolling troubadour" throughout the wards.

Floyd White and the Enchanters, who have recently cut a record entitled "All the Lights in the World," were again acclaimed as one of Kip's most popular groups. Gail Vours of Daly City sang in her usual appealing fashion, then later joined the Enchanters on the drums for a session. Phyllis McQuade, doing a pantomime; the Honey Bees, singing duo, and the Kipstrutters, sub-teen line dancers, all from South San Francisco, and pianist Cathy Cubic of Daly City rounded out the entertainment. Same evening, Kipstars Nick Vitales and David Oaks, a comedy duo, led the Kip group at Pacifica. New members Paul Eldridge, concert pianist, and Shirley Jagman, rock and roll singer, also performed for the newly organized Lioness Club. The San Francisco Lincoln High representatives were enthusiastically invited to return for future engagements. Allene Orchard of Pacifica directed the production.

During the Lenten season Kip will perform only the Log Cabin and other shows for which previous commitments have been made at Letterman Army Hospital.

THE TOWN Record

By ROY HURLBERT

Daly City police have lost one of their best customers.

Henry "Beartracks" Mack, on the blotter so many times that it wasn't news anymore, passed a way recently at the age of 41.

Mack's only trouble was alcohol. Too much of it took his life.

George Glass, manager of Spotlite Market, has some real powerful friends.

Take his brother, for example. He's governor of the state of Georgia.

It's always the case: With the school board elections coming up, attendance is getting better at the regular meetings.

Too bad some of these latecomers haven't attended board meetings with consistency. They'd be better candidates if they had.

One of the best organized groups in town, in our opinion, is the Westlake Catholic Men's Club. Their father-son affair Friday night, featuring representatives of the SF Giants, was a first-class affair.

Organization always gets results.

Newly seated Muni Judge Charles Becker of Westlake had a tough decision to make his first week on the bench.

He fined a Hungarian-born Stanford U. student $50 for tossing a tangerine at visiting Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan.

Court aides said the only reason Becker levied the fine was because the Hungarian missed his target.

The buttons on DC Policeman Jim Bergstrom's jacket just won't fit. He and wife Angelina, daughter of DC Scavenger president Al Serini, are busy tending five-week-old Cynthia.

Fellow Officer Al Nicolini also is swelling with pride. He and the missus expect an heir very soon.

The man who tipped us off to the need of blood for Michael Jimenez, nine-year-old leukemia victim, was a personable DC gent who didn't want any publicity for himself.

We think Ray Lagomarsino should receive his due. The lad's father can thank the Mission street clothier for making the appeal public.

John Eckert At Korea Port In Army Unit

Pfc. John J. Eckert III, 19, whose parents live at 707 Templeton avenue, Daly City is serving at Pusan, Korea, with an Army engineer unit.

A graduate of Jefferson High two years ago, John entered the Army in March of 1958. He has been in the Far East since last August.

SOUTH San Francisco Councilman Leo Ryan congratulates Dr. John Kaster of San Mateo on the latter's appointment as chairman of the Precinct Work Committee of the San Mateo County Democratic Central Committee. Kaster was active in the campaign to elect Governor Brown and for Ryan in the 25th Assembly District race.

FOR MEDICAL STUDY

National Foundation To Award 25 Scholarships To County Students

Outstanding San Mateo County high school and college students will have an opportunity to compete for twenty-five $2000 four-year scholarships now being offered in California by the National Foundation, Carl E. Ward of San Mateo, chairman of the San Mateo County chapter, announced today.

The scholarships are part of the foundation's multi-million dollar program to train urgently needed personnel for the health professions. The program will provide scholarship winners with $500 a year toward four years of college or university training in medicine, medical social work, nursing, physical therapy and occupational therapy.

The Mailman Cometh

EASTER SEAL DRIVE UNDER WAY TO AID CRIPPLED KIDS, ADULTS

For the next couple of days, mail carriers throughout San Mateo county will make their rounds with an extra load — and extra smiles.

In addition to their usual burden of bills and letters, they will deliver symbols of help for crippled children — Easter Seals — to some 115,000 county homes.

Enclosed with the seals, traditional harbingers of spring, will be letters reminding residents that contributions to Easter Seals are needed to provide another year of varied services for the county's crippled children and adults.

Peter F. Miller, general chairman of this year's Easter Seal drive, expressed thanks to all postal carriers and asked the public to respond "promptly and generously" to the mail appeal.

The fund campaign which opened this week, will continue through Easter Sunday, March 29. Sponsoring agency is the San Mateo County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Miller said public support of the "crippled children's cause" has been proven by increased contributions in each of the 26 years of campaign history.

He added that local Easter Seal contributions provide the major support for the Rehabilitation and Research Center in Burlingame which offers year around training and therapy for those with crippling illnesses.

"The services offered at the center," Miller stated, "must be maintained and expanded to insure independence for the increased number of physically handicapped among us."

DC Resident To Organize CAP Squadron

Here's a news item worth the attention of any aviation-minded person in this area between the ages of 15 and 26. An auxiliary of the U. S. Air Force, called Civil Air Patrol, is now starting a new squadron in Daly City.

Members learn how to fly, operate radios, navigate, and also study aircraft engines, and theory of flight. The Patrol, as an auxiliary, has been in existence for nearly a decade and has a total membership of 41,000.

The primary purpose of CAP is to offer the services of its members as civilian pilots and observers to USAF local and state authorities during floods, forest fires, earthquakes, and aircraft accidents.

Bill Roberts, an officer in the Patrol, has more information and will give it by letter or phone, if interested persons will call PL 6-4741 after 6 p.m. on weekdays. He lives at 55 Los Banos avenue, Daly City.

Lions Name Art Exhibit Committees

The Daly City-Colma Lions Club will sponsor its annual Youth Art Exhibit from April 13 to 19 in War Memorial Building here.

Committees have been set and some prominent Daly City leaders have volunteered for them, along with their fellow Lions Club members.

Henry Z. Weibel, superintendent of Jefferson Elementary School District, is chairman of the general committee which plans and supervises the event, and transports the equipment to and from War Memorial Building.

The Hall Committee, in charge of decorations, is headed by Vince Murphy, with Ray Logan and Joe Long assisting. Head of the Exhibit Protection Committee is Police Chief Roland Petroch. Assisting him are Ed Byrne, Ed Dennis Jr., David Friedenberg, and the Rev. J. Richard Friedline.

Those who will choose the judges are Ello Fontana, chairman of Jefferson High School District board of trustees, and his judging committee which includes John Putkey, Louis Pisani, Merle Westmoreland, and Frank Vorsatz.

The Prizes Committee will purchase the awards and will exhibit them. Chairman Ray Charette, president of the Lions Club, will be assisted by Ray Lagomarsino and Fred Goodell.

The advertising and publicity committee, headed by Sam Feller, will handle all publicity releases with Roy Arneson, Harry Curusis, John Ferrari, Joe Lewkowitz, Jefferson Elementary board of trustees' chairman, and Robert Berman.

Local IDS Manager Gets National Award

Robert L. McAbee, local zone manager for Investors Diversified Services, Inc., 64-year-old investment management corporation, has received national recognition from the company for record sales during November 1958 of the mutual fund shares issued by its five affiliated open-end investment companies.

"Activation of this company," he continued, "will provide long term loans and venture capital for small and expanding businesses. Venture credit of this type, prior to passage of the Small Business Investment Act of 1958, was unavailable through commercial banks."

Letters To The Editor

KIP Director Cites Status Of Youth Group

Dear Mr. Bradshaw: The young people and the adults of KIP feel that an open letter to the parents and to the people of Daly City is appropriate at this time in view of the fact that word has reached those in authority concerning apparent misinformation about KIP.

KIP is a non-profit making organization, legally chartered by the State of California, with a constitution and by-laws. No one working with KIP receives any pay. Any money which is derived is placed in the general treasury for the benefit of the kids in KIP. The adults, as well as donating time and effort required for full supervision of all youth activities, also donate much transportation, supplies, and food.

The work of KIP is bearing fruit as witness the activities of several KIP "graduates." Ron Molina and his Rocketeers, a musical combo, are well known in the area, and have done extensive traveling to fulfill numerous engagements. Eddie Quintaros, who was the original leader of the Blue Jacks, is a successful solo guitarist and singer with a recent record release to his credit. The Blue Jacks, who have been with us from the inception of KIP in 1957, were seen recently on television station KTVU.

What these teenagers and other youngsters in KIP have learned has been of great value to them. They have gained poise and self assurance through frequent public appearances, but without the pressure of professional status while they were in the learning stage.

This letter is written to allay any fears or questions anyone might have about KIP. Information is available from KIP or from me for any who wish to enquire.

Sincerely,
Kay Irvine
Director General
KIP Workshop

VOLKSWAGEN DRIVERS VIE IN WESTLAKE

A diving skill contest, sponsored by the Volkswagen Club of California, at Westlake Park on February 8, saw 30 contestants participating in the event which was free and open to all Volkswagen drivers.

The contest was designed primarily for driving in first gear and reverse. The course was marked with pylons. The driver, competing against time, was required to drive through serpentine, parallel park, pull into garages in forward and reverse and solve other problems of every-day driving.

Drivers competed for trophies in two classes. In the men's class, Tom Tresser placed first with a time of 1:29.2; second, Jack Chism, 1:36.3; third, Douglas Murray, 1:36.8. Jeanne Jelinech took first place in the women's class with a time of 2:34.4; second, Mary Griffith, 2:40.1; third, Margaret Fisse, 3:04.2.

A unique entry was the 1942 model 82 VW of Henry Tierney. This vehicle, a Kubeiwagen, and a similar amphibious model were manufactured after 1939 for the German Army. This car, which has 25 horsepower, was driven to a third place victory by Douglas Murray.

The Driving Skill Contest is one of the many varied and interesting activities sponsored by the Volkswagen Club of California. Regular monthly meetings are held the fourth Thursday of each month, 8 p.m., at Broadmoor Community Center. Membership is open to any person owning a Volkswagen. For further information, call Cathy Horsfall, PL 6-1922.

Eventually, both suspects raced out and Arnaudo discovered that $20 was gone from his cash register.

SF State To Show Photos Of Russia

An exhibit of 500 photographs of Russia and its people taken by a young American from Richmond, Virginia, will be on display in the Creative Arts Building of San Francisco State College from this Wednesday through March 12.

E. Demarest Peterson, who had been teaching English in Sweden, was led by an interest in Russian literature to visit the Soviet Union. He toured Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev, Stalingrad and other cities during an 18-month period, gathering documentation with his Rolleiflex on all phases of Russian life accessible to the tourist.

Pictures of schools, universities and living units, parades and festivals are presented with quotations from classic Russian literature. The exhibit also includes an unusual set of pictures of sailors aboard ships of the Russian Baltic Fleet.

The exhibit will be open every day of the week from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. in the lobby of the Main Auditorium, Creative Arts Building, San Francisco State College, 19th Avenue and Holloway. Student admission is 25 cents, general public 50c.

JESD Executes Thrifty Idea: Old Bus Now Hearing Center

Teachers, health personnel, and administrators of Jefferson Elementary School District are all enthused over their conversion of a condemned school bus into a soundproof hearing laboratory.

The bus can be taken to any one of the district's 13 schools, parked in a convenient location and with a minimum of classroom interruption, individual hearing tests can be given to boys and girls. Audiometrist for the district is Donald Calvert.

At the present time, all children in grades 1, 2 and 8, plus referred students, are tested each year, according to Mrs. Helen Delafield, the district's coordinator of health and welfare. She stated, "The purpose of the hearing tests is to detect hearing losses before they become noticeable. This is done by an instrument called an audiometer. When a possible hearing loss is detected, parents are notified. The hearing testing program is one of prevention and under no circumstances do school personnel diagnose or prescribe treatment."

According to Dr. David Shapiro, assistant superintendent in charge of business, the converted bus was purchased in 1950 and condemned, after heavy use, by the Highway Patrol in 1958. Rather than dispose of the completely depreciated bus, the school district, with a rather small expenditure and utilizing some of the maintenance crew under the direction of John Sperisen, foreman of buildings and grounds, soundproofed the interior of the bus.

Previous to the conversion of the bus, classes and schools were interrupted for hearing tests. Classes had to be quiet and even playground activities had to be curtailed because of the noise factor. It is no longer necessary to interrupt the complete routine of a school and there has been a considerable increase in the efficiency of the testing and screening.

Bills To Give Jailed People Phone Rights

Three bills, introduced by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo, were approved by the State Assembly Committee on Criminal Procedure last week, giving arrested persons the right to make three telephone calls from the police station to their attorneys, employers, or relatives, immediately after being booked.

These bills provided for one to three completed telephone calls and also makes it a misdemeanor for a public official or employee to deprive arrested persons of this right. Francis asked the committee to pass all three bills because the proposed legislation was vetoed by the governor two years ago after passing houses of the state legislature. He argued that this would permit the governor to take his choice.

In arguing for passage of the bill, Francis contended that innocent people, particularly, the families of arrested persons, are caused needless hardship and anxiety when the person is confined overnight or for long periods before being permitted to notify them. He also contended that persons have lost their employment because they were unable to notify their employers of the reason for their absence for days.

Francis said, "When this occurs, innocent people such as relatives and employers, are caused unnecessary worry and hardships because of the police system in some communities which is overly zealous in their approach to law enforcement. "Since proposing this legislation, I have received letters from many people throughout the state reporting cases in which requested telephone calls were refused by the police for long periods after arrest," he added.

The Colma School Girls Choir will entertain as of the program highlights.

Assembly Passes Bill Curtailing Use Of Spotlights

The State Assembly today unanimously passed a bill by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo which prohibits the use of spotlights to illuminate another moving vehicle.

The bill does not apply to the use of spotlights by authorized emergency vehicles, such as those operated by law enforcement and fire protection personnel.

Francis stated that the passage of this legislation will increase highway safety and prevent accidents. He pointed out that many complaints have been received from the public of spotlights being intentionally directed so as to cause a glaring light in the eyes of an approaching driver. Other complaints are that the improper use of spotlights blind another driver by the projection of the glaring light to the rear or side of his vehicle.

TESTER Donald Calvert gives Vista Grande School student Harry Featherstone a hearing test inside the old school bus which is being put to good use by Jefferson Elementary District. Conversion of the time-worn bus has saved the district funds and provided Daly City-Colma youngsters with an adequate mobile "center" for the important hearing test program. David Willey photo

Tribe Vs. Warriors Friday In Finale

Jefferson's varsity cagers will shoot the works this week in closing out the Peninsula League campaign with games against Hillsdale (Wednesday) and South San Francisco's lowly Warriors.

Coach Mike Orlich's Indians will be battling to keep fifth place in the eight-team circuit. Friday night's finale with South City starts with the lightweight game at 7:30 o'clock in the Jeff gym.

The Tribe, spurred by Art Banos and Alan Lee, Friday night nudged Westmoor in overtime, 46-43, to give Orlich a 4-8 record. Soph Lee shared Jeff scoring honors with Roy Reitz, the Indians' deadeye who ranks second in league scoring. Each had 11 points Friday. Banos got 10 against the cross-town Rams.

Reitz needs big point efforts this week to cement his bid for All-Peninsula honors. The southpaw shooter has been a standout all season for Orlich. Loss of senior forward Ernie Howren, another all-loop performer, forced the brunt of the Jeff attack on Reitz. Roy, supplemented by guard Jack Horn, have carried the load for the Indians. Banos and Lee also have looked sharp the past few weeks.

Reitz this Friday will be up against South City ace Al Lanza, who got 32 points Friday as the Warriors played Mills. Roy tanked 36 points against San Mateo two weeks ago for a new Peninsula League mark.

Rick Warren's Jeff lightweights, 35-34 victor over Westmoor last week, shouldn't have any trouble with South City's 30's. Tony DiVirgilio, Gary Mossi and Mike Wills all are gunning for All-Peninsula distinction as leaders of Warren's fast-closing squad.

South City's varsity, hampered earlier this month by Jeff, has won but once in 12 games. Jeff's lightweights are in third place with an 8-4 record. The Warrior 30's, 4-8 in the book, are paced by Dan Emmett, called the league's best player.

YO-YO FINALS HERE CROWDED WITH CHAMPS

The state regional yo-yo championships here Saturday attracted city and district champions from San Carlos to San Rafael, to War Memorial Community Center.

Wesley Muse, 15, of San Francisco, and Dennis Jones, 13, of San Carlos, tied for championship honors. Both boys have earned the right to enter the state finals at Redwood City on March 14. Each state finalist will receive a hi-fi four-speed record player. The winner will receive a $500 scholarship.

Mike Olson, 12, of South San Francisco, won third place honors and received a table model radio.

Christine Whitby, 14, of San Francisco, and Terri Stickle, 12, of San Mateo, tied for first place in the girls' class. They will also represent this district in the state finals.

Vickie Alvarez, 13, of Daly City, won third place honors and received a table model radio.

St. Clair Is Busy

Bob St. Clair, 49er captain and Daly City Councilman, will be guest speaker at SF State College's Block "S" Society meeting next Tuesday noon at the Gator gym.

JEFF CAGERS SLIP PAST WESTMOOR QUINTS IN TWO HEART-POUNDERS

Nipped in a pair of hard-luck thrillers with town rival Jefferson last Friday night, Westmoor High's varsity and lightweight cagers conclude their Peninsula League slate this week, meeting Capuchino there in mid-week and hosting Mills this Friday evening, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Jeff's uphill rallies Friday tripped the Rams in tilts the Westmoorites wanted to win most. The varsity contest went to the Indians in overtime, 46-43, and the lightweight tangle ended 35-34 and had everyone spraying fingernails all over the crowded Ram court.

Jeff's varsity triumph, cinched by Art Banos' field goal and two free throws by strongman Pete Garcia, gave Mike Orlich's Indians fifth place in the loop and dropped Tony Giammona's Rams to sixth with a 3-9 record.

The loss by Byron Van Alstyne's Westmoor 30's kept Jeff's lightweights in third place with an 8-4 mark and left the Rams in fourth with 6-6.

Westmoor's hopes for a first varsity win over Jeff were killed just a few minutes before Friday's contest. Forward Gary Twitty, Ram senior hustler, split his head wide open (required five stitches at emergency hospital) by hitting a hump at the door leading to the gym. Gary was jumping

DC Man Veep Of Peninsula Sportswriters

The Peninsula Sportswriters Association today announced its officers for 1959.

New president of the group is Gene Phillips of the Millbrae Sun. New vice president is Roy Hurlbert of Daly City's Westlake Times and The Record.

Coach Steve Mezzera's Indians are a big question mark this season as the Jeff boss enters his third year minus four valuable vets and with only three returning first-stringers.

Gone from the second place (9-3) '58 team are outfielders Gary Ryan and Barrie Haanen, infield standout Ino Patron and second, and mound mainstay Paul Tapia.

Mezzera's lone tried performer who are back are catcher Jerry Kennedy, a 300 plus sticker; first baseman-pitcher Roy Reitz, an all-sports southpaw, and Bud Callaghan, all-purpose infielder. These boys are seniors.

Starting duty at about five positions is wide open. Mezzera has several juniors and seniors with limited experience whom he will shuffle around the infield and outfield the next few weeks to get the right combinations.

Jeff's pitching staff is stocked with five promising lads, but none has had much varsity experience. Senior Bob Strass-

COACH Byron Van Alstyne of Westmoor High's 130-pound cagers has two of the best performing sophomores, Van Alstyne learned his basketball lessons as a regular for USC.

Jeff Baseball Outlook Poses Question Mark

Jefferson High's varsity baseballers open practice next week for the 1959 Peninsula League campaign which gets underway on April 3 after a month of exhibition contests.

Coach Steve Mezzera's Indians are a big question mark this season as the Jeff boss enters his third year minus four valuable vets and with only three returning first-stringers.

Gone from the second place (9-3) '58 team are outfielders Gary Ryan and Barrie Haanen, infield standout Ino Patron and second, and mound mainstay Paul Tapia.

Mezzera's lone tried performer who are back are catcher Jerry Kennedy, a 300 plus sticker; first baseman-pitcher Roy Reitz, an all-sports southpaw, and Bud Callaghan, all-purpose infielder. These boys are seniors.

Starting duty at about five positions is wide open. Mezzera has several juniors and seniors with limited experience whom he will shuffle around the infield and outfield the next few weeks to get the right combinations.

Jeff's pitching staff is stocked with five promising lads, but none has had much varsity experience. Senior Bob Strassurger, an infielder last year at 3b and ss, could be Mezzera's number one flinger. He's backed by seniors Reitz and Walt Carlson, and juniors Don Staff and Len Anderson. The latter, a junior, will play behind Reitz at first.

In the outfield, the hopefuls are led by seniors Vic Lewkowicz, Ron Kallin and Wilson Javier, Carlson, Leininger and Claire Root also will see duty in this area.

The Indians play their first practice game at home on March 10 against Galileo.

Mezzera, a University of Oregon graduate, made his debut as Jeff baseball coach in '57 as the Indians won the North Peninsula League title with an 8-4 record. They lost to Menlo-Atherton in the playoffs with the South Peninsula champion.

Last campaign the Indians couldn't overtake Capuchino. Cap will be one of the favorites again this time, led by southpaw whiz Larry Weber.

The Ram infield will be paced by returnees Bill Dougherty at first, Jim Heick at second, Dan O'Connor at short, and Eddie Berg at third. Soph Terry Christman, a pretty fair southpaw hurler, will play behind Dougherty, while soph Billy Hix and senior Dave Simons will give Berg competition at third base.

In the outfield, Losberger will have senior Ross Holmgren in left, Bill Reynolds back in center, and probably Christman, Simons or soph Barry Krohn in right.

Bob Goodwin, who blazed towards the end of the '58 campaign, heads the Ram pitching corps. Simons, a workhorse last time, is next, followed by flingers Phil Fair, Christman, Krohn, Cornell Holmes and Dick Reese.

Westmoor meets Poly of SF on Friday, March 6, here in a practice game. The Rams open league play April 3, hosting Jefferson.

OLPH PRESENTATION

Golden Glovers Mix Here Next Thursday

More than 30 youngsters with dreams of national glory will invade Daly City's War Memorial building on Thursday night, March 5, to swap leather in the annual Golden Gloves boxing trials.

The Men's Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church is sponsoring the show and seats will be at a premium.

Winners here next week advance to the finals in San Francisco, thence, if successful, to the national amateur boxing championships. About 15 bouts are carded here and the first scrap probably will begin about 7 p.m.

For information on tickets, call Dick Liberty, JU 8-3215, or contact any member of the OLPH Men's Club.

OLPH through the years has worked diligently to promote amateur sports events in Daly City. Several of the boys who appeared here on OLPH boxing cards have gone on to the professional ranks.

One thing is certain about amateur boxers. They give their all and seldom is there a dull moment in the three-round encounters.

Wyncoop Spotlights Cage Homestretch On Peninsula Show

Highlights of the north Peninsula high school basketball season will be featured on Warren Wyncoop's half hour radio show, "Prep Sport Scoop," on KIBE (1220) Saturday at 11 a.m.

Gene Phillips, president of the Peninsula Sportswriters Association and Millbrae newspaperman, will be the guest on the show. Phillips, once a ranking tennis star, has covered high school athletics for various newspapers since 1949. He is presently operating a news-photo sports service in this area and is sports editor of the Millbrae paper.

Particular attention will be given to the Capuchino-Hillsdale game, which is the top game listed in the final round of Peninsula League action—and to the Serra-St. Elizabeth contest in San Mateo Friday.

A rundown on the lightweight crucial between Capuchino and Hillsdale, which will decide the championship, will also be given.

Martin led the way with three for four. O'Malley gave up only eight hits.

Westmoor 9 Looks For Good Season

Westmoor's varsity baseball squad begins drill next week with high hopes of a first division finish in the Peninsula League race.

Coach Rod Losberger has good reason for optimism. He will greet six returning first-stringers, several good frosh-soph products, and a pitching staff that could surprise the front-runners.

Losberger's vets are led by husky catcher Tom McHugh, one of the league's best performers in '58, and a lad who may have a big future in the pro game.

The Ram infield will be paced by returnees Bill Dougherty at first, Jim Heick at second, Dan O'Connor at short, and Eddie Berg at third. Soph Terry Christman, a pretty fair southpaw hurler, will play behind Dougherty, while soph Billy Hix and senior Dave Simons will give Berg competition at third base.
